

DIED.

On Saturday morning, December 13, 1896, at 10:30 a. m., after a brief illness, at the residence of his wife, Mrs. J. W. Hardy, in the city of St. Louis, Missouri, at the age of 74 years, O. F. Jackson, Miss. Dec. 14, 1896.

Tribute of Respect.

It has become our sad and painful duty to convey to his last resting place that which was his dear and dearly loved brother, W. W. Hardy, the Noble Grand of this lodge, and whereas, it is customary and proper to place upon record a fitting tribute to departed worth, be it therefore,

Resolved, That we recognize in this sad and solemn dispensation of a mysterious and all-wise Providence, the uncertainty of earthly things, and the absolute certainty that death will surely come to all, and that, as in this case, when we least expect it, it will come, and we will be unable to see him again.

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Hardy, this lodge has lost one of its fairest jewels, and its membership a friend and brother, whose knowledge to cherish and respect, born and reared amongst us, many of us knew him from his childhood; and while, like all that is mortal, he had his faults, he possessed many excellencies of character that we may well emulate. He was honest and upright. His impulses were strong and enduring. His attachments were strong and enduring. In the full vigor of manhood, and with seemingly bright prospects of long life and prosperity before him, he has fallen—like

A flower that does with opening morn arise, And, flourishing the day, at evening dies.

Resolved, That as an evidence of our respect to the memory of our deceased brother, the members of this lodge will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That the foregoing resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this lodge, that a copy be furnished to the family of the deceased, who have a right to sympathize in their great bereavement and irreparable loss, and that the city papers be requested to publish.

Submitted and adopted December 14, 1896.
